

Going underwater

Design trends
Page 14

Wednesday 15 July 2015

Homes & Property

COMMUNITY LIFE: NEW HOMES P4 FIRST-TIME BUYER HOTSPOTS P6 KENT: MARKET TOWNS P10 STATEMENT PLANTS P28

Spotlight on Deptford

Page 32

London's best property search website: homesandproperty.co.uk

→ MIGRATING crabs on Australia's Christmas Island inspired artist Augusta Akerman to create a lino print, which is now a digitally printed fabric. At 140cm wide, it costs £50 a metre on silk crepe satin. Other fabrics are available (augustaakerman.com).

→ THE Orange Coral Drum Table features a cast resin base with a hand-lacquered finish, and Scagliola top made to order. Designed by Virginia White with Oriol Harwood, it costs £3,000. See it at Thomas Goode, 17-22 South Audley Street, W1 (020 7499 2823; virginiawhitecollection.com).

→ THIS Aqua Multi Shell porcelain mug is part of a new Coastal collection by Joules. It costs £9.95 (0800 988 4610; joules.com).

Design trends

underwater

By Barbara Chandler

→ BASED on a watercolour by designer and architect Charles Voysey in the V&A archives, this aquatic scene has been recreated as a digital print by mural specialist Surface View. It costs £60 a square metre and is cut to size required (surfaceview.co.uk).

→ BLUE Octopus cushion, £7, at Asda's George Home range (asda.com).

→ HUSBAND-AND-WIFE team Steve Baines & Eliza Fricker have designed this wallpaper featuring chic shells. It is digitally printed and costs £95 for a 10-metre roll, delivery included (bainesandfricker.net).

